Before departing from Knoxville for Washington Tuesday Senator John K. Shields said, "I feel confident that General Rye will win in November and while it is true that Judge Burrow was defeated in the recent election, I see no reason why all Democrats should not be in line in November and vote for General Rye, insuring his election. ## DISCUSS SANITARIUM AT TUESDAY'S MEETING

A mass meeting was called for last Tuesday night at the Court-house and a representative body of business and professional men of the city assembled to further discuss the proposed sanitarium for Paris. The proposition was discussed from every angle and all were enthusiastic to secure the same.

The promoters, Dr. Hicks and Mr. Reese, of Nashville, will provide $2,000 of the $5,000 capital stock if the citizens of Paris and Henry County will raise the remainder of $3,000. This plan was agreed to and a committee was appointed at Tuesday night's meeting to distribute the stock in shares of $25.00 each. We presume that little difficulty will be met in disposing of this stock.

Paris needs such an institution and we trust it may be had without unnecessary delay.

Mrs. Will B. Porter, of Russellville, Ky., was a guest in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dumas, on Washington street, last week.

POSTMASTER LOCATES HEIR TO $25,000 FARM

A few days ago Postmaster Y. Q. Caldwell received a letter from Dr. D. C. Baker, of Tolu, Ky., seeking the address of his nephew, Willie Shutt, who has come into an inheritance by the death of his father, a wealthy planter of the bluegrass region.

Dr. Baker says that Mr. Shutt is an only child and he and his father have been estranged for several years. Mr. Shutt died without making a will, and his son, Willie Shutt, is the sole heir to a 400 acre farm, which would probably sell for not less than $25,000, besides other property.

The postmaster succeeded in locating young Shutt in West Paris, and informed him of the death of his father.

HON. PORTER DUNLAP TO DIRECT CAMPAIGN

The Democratic party of Tennessee, through the executive authority of the organization, has selected Hon. Porter Dunlap, of Dover, to direct the campaign of 1914.

At a meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee, held in Nashville Tuesday, a resolution was adopted tendering the position to Mr. Dunlap. On his acceptance, he was enthusiastically applauded by the members of the committee. Harmony, enthusiasm and confidence marked the meeting of the state committee, and plans and purposes for an active campaign were discussed and approved.

Chairman Hill introduced Mr. Dunlap, who, in accepting the honor, said: "I want to thank each and all for this high tribute of your confidence and esteem. I willingly accept, and I promise you a faithful discharge of the duties. I am interested in the success and triumph of democracy, and the election of Thomas C. Rye and all other Democrats is to be the most agreeable task of my life. I thank each and every one of you, gentlemen, and to Judge Hill I may say I know of no man it gives me greater pleasure to work and win with.

The ensuing campaign is in able hands and the committee could not have made a wiser selection in the man to occupy this most important place.

Swain Audience Kept Dry by "Kant-Leek."

"Kant-Leek" is a chemical creation sought for many years by canvas users and chemists alike. In discovering "Kant-Leek," Mr. Swain became possessed of a solution of unequalled commercial value for waterproofing and preserving canvas.

Every positive has its negative, and for years those interested in waterproof and rot-proof canvas have striven to produce a negative for water that does not contain oil, and in compounding "Kant-Leek," Mr. Swain not only succeeded in discovering an entirely new negative (or opposite) to water, but also found an affinity for cotton. When applied, "Kant-Leek" is immediately absorbed into the innermost core of every fibre, and repeated tests have shown that this preparation is retained by each individual fibre during the entire life of the canvas. In accordance with the well known scientific fact no two bodies can occupy the same space at the same time, water cannot gain access to the fibre while "Kant-Leek" is thus retained.

The tents of the W. I. Swain Show Co., which will be the attraction extraordinary here for a solid week, commencing Monday, September 21st are all treated with "Kant-Leek," thus rendering patrons immune from rain or even dampness.

Mrs. S. P. Fitzhugh visited relatives at Dover last week.

The cable received by Mr. Johnsonius stated that a state of war existed in Holland.

A. L. BEATON KILLED; RESULT OF CRAPS GAME

An argument about the winnings following a night spent in gambling, was the result of the death of A. L. Beaton, who was killed yesterday morning about 5 o'clock in the rear of a dive run by H. B. Smith at 928 N. Second street, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal of last Monday.

Beaton received two bullets in his body. One penetrated the head and entered the left eye, the other went through his left chest. Either one of the shots probably would have resulted fatally, for when the police arrived at the scene Beaton appeared to have been dead several minutes.

Beaton is a ship caulker and worked on the river. He went to Memphis from Big Sandy, Tenn., where he has a brother, Lawson Beaton, and a sister, Mrs. Eliza Blunt. It is stated that he made his home at 852 North 2nd Street.
